

All interested parties have the opportunity to provide comments to CalCannabis Cultivation Licensing on the proposed medical cannabis cultivation regulations before they are officially adopted. CalCannabis will hold four public-comment hearings: three in May 2017 and one in June 2017. The proposed regulations were posted online on Friday, April 28, 2017, which initiated the formal public review and comment period; the last day for submitting public comments is Wednesday, June 14, 2017, by 5pm (PST).

How to Make Effective Comments

Be concise and focus directly on the proposed medical cultivation regulations.

Identify the specific part of the proposed medical cultivation regulations you are commenting on (if possible, indicate the regulation section number you're referring to).

Include supporting evidence and facts, and provide complete references and/or citations, particularly if you're referring to a website (for example, provide the specific website url).

Only comments submitted via the methods listed above will be considered as formal comments. Statements or verbal comments made to CalCannabis staff are not considered formal comments. Formal verbal comments may be heard only at the official CalCannabis public hearings.

All comments received on the proposed medical cannabis cultivation regulations during the 45-day comment period will be considered by CalCannabis Cultivation Licensing.

Please Note: No final decisions have been made about the proposed medical cannabis cultivation regulations; final decisions will occur only after the formal public review and comment period has ended.
